

Technical libraries made simpler Witherby eBook Reader

A comprehensive library of technical publications all through a single common user interface that is incredibly easy to use.

More information at your fingertips

With 600 nautical publications all in one place, the Witherby eBook reader is the best way to buy, manage and view the Flag State and technical library information vessels need.

Easier compliance

Includes not just the IMO codes but also GMDSS and Ship's Routing all on the same platform. And lets you add other titles from publishers such as SIGTTO, ICS and Intertanko to meet more of your technical library compliance requirements in one platform.

Simple to use

A simpler way to access technical publications on board using a global search facility to find information quickly and efficiently.

A more cost-effective way to buy

Tailor your library to what each vessel needs to meet specific carriage requirements and avoid costly annual subscription fees by only having to buy when/if a New Edition is published.

Witherby eBook Reader is available standalone or as part of Voyager PLANNING STATION.
